Subject: Microsoft settlement

I understand that the Department of Justice is receiving comments from the public about the Microsoft settlement. I believe that the settlement, though hard on Microsoft, is more than fair to their opponents. Finally putting an end to this issue will be good for consumers like myself who greatly benefit from the creative design of Microsoft's products. I also believe it would be injurious to our national economy if legal action were to resume against Microsoft. Hopefully, this will not happen.

Sincerely,

Agatha N. Snyder
